

What you can do to help

Channel is about partnerships and communities working together to support vulnerable people at an early stage and preventing them from being drawn into violent extremism. Channel is not about reporting or informing on individuals in order to prosecute them.

If you have concerns about someone who may be vulnerable please contact your local Common Assessment Framework (CAF) co-ordinator, Social Care, local Channel co-ordinator, or the Prevent Lead in your organisation for advice.

Violent extremism is a real threat to all communities. Violent extremists actively aim to damage community relations and create division. That is why it is vital that we all work together to support those who are vulnerable in this way.

To contact your local co-ordinator:

e-mail:
prevent@cheshire.pnn.police.uk

or telephone:
01606 362121

CHANNEL

Working in partnership with key agencies from across the Cheshire region.

CHANNEL

What you can do to help

Channel is about partnerships and communities working together to support vulnerable people at an early stage and preventing them from being drawn into violent extremism. Channel is not about reporting or informing on individuals in order to prosecute them.

If you have concerns about someone who may be vulnerable please contact your local Common Assessment Framework (CAF) co-ordinator, Social Care, local Channel co-ordinator, or the Prevent Lead in your organisation for advice.

Violent extremism is a real threat to all communities. Violent extremists actively aim to damage community relations and create division. That is why it is vital that we all work together to support those who are vulnerable in this way.

To contact your local co-ordinator:

e-mail:
prevent@cheshire.pnn.police.uk

or telephone:
01606 362121

CHANNEL

Working in partnership with key agencies from across the Cheshire region.

CHANNEL

What is CHANNEL?

The police service and partners have an integral role to play working with local communities to support people who are vulnerable to being drawn into criminal activity. This could be in relation to drugs, knife crime, guns and gangs or involvement in violent extremism.

This factsheet provides information in relation to Channel – A partnership approach to support individuals vulnerable to recruitment by violent extremists.

Channel provides a mechanism for supporting people who may be vulnerable to violent extremism by assessing the nature and extent of the potential risk and, where necessary, providing an appropriate support package tailored to an individual's needs.

CHANNEL

Why it matters to you

Supporting those who may be vulnerable to being drawn into violent extremism is a key objective of the Government's Prevent strategy. All areas of Cheshire are required to have local action plans in place to support vulnerable individuals.

Wherever possible, Channel will compliment existing safeguarding mechanisms and processes in a supportive role.

The partnership focused structure is similar to existing, successful initiatives which aim to support individuals and protect them from harm - such as involvement in drug, knife or gun crime.

Supporting those most at risk of being drawn into violent extremism is about diverting people away from potential threat at an early stage -which prevents them from being drawn into criminal activity.

Partnership involvement ensures that vulnerable individuals have access to a wide range of support from diversionary activities through to providing access to specific services such as education, housing and employment

Each multi-agency panel varies according to local circumstances but partners (who are all signed up to an Information Sharing Protocol) can include:

- Statutory partners such as education, NHS, probation, housing and the police service
- Social Care
- Children's services (e.g. Common Assessment Framework co-ordinators)
- Youth offending services
- Credible and reliable members of the community

What is CHANNEL?

The police service and partners have an integral role to play working with local communities to support people who are vulnerable to being drawn into criminal activity. This could be in relation to drugs, knife crime, guns and gangs or involvement in violent extremism.

This factsheet provides information in relation to Channel – A partnership approach to support individuals vulnerable to recruitment by violent extremists.

Channel provides a mechanism for supporting people who may be vulnerable to violent extremism by assessing the nature and extent of the potential risk and, where necessary, providing an appropriate support package tailored to an individual's needs.

CHANNEL

Why it matters to you

Supporting those who may be vulnerable to being drawn into violent extremism is a key objective of the Government's Prevent strategy. All areas of Cheshire are required to have local action plans in place to support vulnerable individuals.

Wherever possible, Channel will compliment existing safeguarding mechanisms and processes in a supportive role.

The partnership focused structure is similar to existing, successful initiatives which aim to support individuals and protect them from harm - such as involvement in drug, knife or gun crime.

Supporting those most at risk of being drawn into violent extremism is about diverting people away from potential threat at an early stage -which prevents them from being drawn into criminal activity.

Partnership involvement ensures that vulnerable individuals have access to a wide range of support from diversionary activities through to providing access to specific services such as education, housing and employment

Each multi-agency panel varies according to local circumstances but partners (who are all signed up to an Information Sharing Protocol) can include:

- Statutory partners such as education, NHS, probation, housing and the police service
- Social Care
- Children's services (e.g. Common Assessment Framework co-ordinators)
- Youth offending services
- Credible and reliable members of the community

