TRAINING NEWS

Dear All,

What a fantastic event LEARNING WEEK has been!

With the great variety of in-person and on-line activities on offer last week, more than 2000 participants boosted our collective knowledge and skills across the partnership, creating a HUGE LEARNING ACHIEVEMENT for all.

Whilst the excitement of our Learning Week activities has sadly come to an end, we will continue to reap the benefits of our joined-up learning as we now embed our refreshed best practice WORKING TOGETHER

"Really interesting training, good to hear from different people and understand how agencies are working together"

"Brilliant – I've just downloaded the plan and sent to the Head so that we can start it together, thank you"

"This was an excellent training session which has really shown me how we successfully collaborate to keep children safe".

A BIG THANK YOU TO EVERYONE FOR TAKING PART

We now look forward to publishing our full Training Programme Offer for April 2024-March 2025.

And finally, we leave you with a few more great examples of feedback letting us know what you found most valuable during Learning Week on:

Teamwork:

- "Really looking forward to sharing with the whole team, you highlighted lots of community groups and possibilities. Thank you"

Resources:

- "One thing that stood out for me is all the tools that are available on the Live Well and CESCP website"
- "Seeing the maps was really useful, we can look at where we slot into this pathway of support and how early intervention benefits everyone. Thank you so much for today"

- "I can now see how the assessment tool is such an important document for evidence and bringing information together"

Understanding context:

- "A great overview for anyone new to a safeguarding role. Lots of useful information. Thank you"
- "It has been really interesting to learn the statistics for the attendance team and to dig deep surrounding the barriers, thank you very much for the session!"
- "It was really useful to hear about the prevention and diversion strategies".

Staying child focused:

- "really helpful to explore the correct use of language and include the views of the child and parent"
- "The power of looking at the child as a child"
- "Looking at new words, being open to situations and ready to listen to a child, without judgement and pre-empting their circumstances".
- "Absolutely brilliant training, Learnt so much when thinking about outcomes for the young people we care for. Thank you Everyone"

And, putting a 'Spotlight On...' our services:

"I just wanted to thank you and your team for putting on the fabulous Spotlight on Networking Event las week. The event was so well organised and set out, with a great array of services, all of whom brought a valuable selection of resources for practitioners to take away. I left with a bag full of resources and information which I will now share with my team during our next face to face team meeting".

Looking forward to seeing you at our next event!

Kind Regards,
